

RESOLUTION NO. 2391

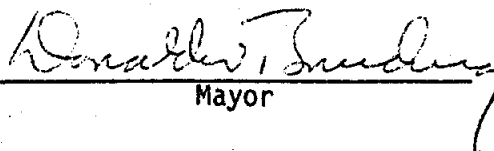

WHEREAS, Illa Atwood, who is in her 12th year at Linn-Benton Community College, has written a book which is used in community colleges throughout the United States; developed a clerical curriculum presently used in Oregon's community colleges; been elected to many offices in various business organizations to which she belongs; and written business articles which have been published in "National Business Education Forum" and has also edited this magazine; and

WHEREAS, because of her outstanding contributions in teaching business, she has received special recognition from the National Business Education Association; and

WHEREAS, because of her hard work and dedication, she has helped to make LBCC a fine community college from which to obtain a higher education.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that Illa Atwood be commended for her special achievement in being named "National Business Education Teacher of the Year" for community and junior colleges by the NBEA.

DATED THIS 27TH DAY OF APRIL, 1983.

_____
Mayor

ATTEST:

_____
City Recorder